

„Ambulance in our school“

An ambulance came to the school so that the children could learn about the work of an ambulance, see what equipment and devices are being used. Children could learn how is the emergency going.

The director of the "Žibutė" preschool in Panevėžys invited an ambulance and its employees to the school. Children (4-6 years old) got to know an ambulance and paramedics. Inspected the car's equipment and devices. Tried stretchers and braces, did a cardiogram, monitored the heart model. Remembered the emergency phone number. The activity helped not only to get acquainted with the work of paramedics, but also to reduce the fear of doctors, and provides opportunities to learn more about body. Such activities not only help to get to know specific professions, but also to see their work up close, contextualize education, expand children's experience.
